HER VOICE WAS SO SWEET

That She Doesn't Say "Number Please." Any More.

Cleveland, O., June 16-When she answered his call over the telephone. he thought she had the sweetest voice he ever heard, and told her so. She laughed, and there was music in her laughter. He told her a girl with such a sweet voice and such musical laughter must be pretty. Then the music ceased abruptly. He wanted to meet her but she wouldn't hear of that. Finally a mutual friend introduced them, and "he" learned "she" was Miss Mary A. Fish, a pretty central girl in the Cuyahoga exchange, while "he" was John A. Gahan, connected with the Surgical Appliance & Trust Co. All the pictures he painted of the sweet-voiced girl were more than realized at their first meeting. And shewell, she thought "Mr. Gahan was real nice." But her parents didn't. They gave verbal expression to their thoughts. Neither of the young folks let parental objections interfere with their courtship.

Gahan, with a license in his pocket, met her, and they were married by Rev. Father T. F. Mahon.

The older of the candidates served their country in the army that Mr. Young, knowing that his of the Union, and all are equipped well election would necessitate, during his for the duties of the several positions incumbency in office, his retirement they seek.

And the best of it all is that the candidates selected represent a united obtained after he had been urged and party. There are no longer factions importuned not only by a united and in the Democracy of Summit county, harmonious Democracy, but also by As Chairman Rogers said Saturday, hosts of other citizens, not allied with 'all the old wheel-horses are in line, the Democratic party, to make the shouting their approval of the har- race. mony now existing, and inspiring the These assurances of support were younger workers to put their shoulders made to him in personal and confidento the wheel, and push forward to one tial conferences, through messages of the greatest political victories ever sent by friends, and by personal corwon in this county."

But his most important public service was as County Commissioner. He was elected in 1897, over Mr. Chas. Hatch, Republican, after a spirited It was with the utmost reluctance contest, which showed both candidates to be popular with the people. During his term as County Commissloner, Mr. Fillius established a reputation for progress and economy. He was in favor of advancing Summit county as far as possible, but in doing so, he could see no reason for turn ing the public treasury into a contribution box for the benefit of the politiclans. One of his most notable acts for economy was the introducing of a resolution providing that the cost of the new jail be kept within the limit of $65,000. His was the only vote in favor of it and the public will have noticed that the estimates for the jail have already been increased $40,000, with still more increases in sight.

Mr. Fillius is well equipped for the office of Sheriff, and his popularity both in the city and throughout the county will guarantee his election. There are few men in Summit county. better known that he, and assurances of support in his campaign are being heard everywhere.

A. T. PAIGE.

Mr. Albert T. Paige, whom the Democrats nominated as their candidate for Clerk of Courts, was born in Madison, Lake county, O., March 19, 1850. He was educated in the Painesville publie schools, and from 1866 to 1873, was employed in the National City bank, at Cleveland.

In 1874, he came to Akron and engaged in the hardware business with his brother, David R. Paige, under the firm name of Paige Bros. For five years he was treasurer and general manager of the Paige Tube Co., at Warren, O., and was one of the originators of the town of Barberton-in fact, the original purchase of the land was made by him.

With his brother, Mr. Paige built the block now occupied by the Standard Hardware Co., and himself built the Albert block, both of which are among the handsomest business blocks in Akron. For many years Mr. Paige was treasurer of the Summit County Agricultural Society, and contributed much toward making it what is now is- one of the most prosperous and popular agricultural associations in

Mr. Paige was also a member of the his last year in this office was president of the Board. While City Commissioner, the most important work done by Mr. Paige was in connection with the Fire department. When he became chairman of the Fire committee, he believed that the department was not only not in keeping with the general progress of the city, but was also inadequate to the needs of fire against him one of the strongest and protection. As the result of his work for the department, three new stations were erected, and a station provided for North Hill. Considerable new equipment was also purchased.

In 1891, Mr. Paige met with business reverses through his connection with and endorsing for others, and not as the result of any fault of his own. This is the first time he has ever been a candidate for an elective office, but he has a large acquaintance throughfairs of this office will be in the hands out both the city and county, and regards his chances for winning as good.

Mr. Palge was married in 1875 to Miss Carrie Adams, of Painesville, and one child was born to them-Albert A. Mrs. Paige died in 1881, and in 1804 Mr. Paige was married again. to Miss Ida McClure. Their home, at 601 East Market st., is one of the largest and prettiest in this city. Both Mr. and Mrs. Paige are prominent in social circles, and have many friends.
